ON THE TOWN: PAST AND PRESENT

Artist's Statement:

I've lived in Washington Heights for over 28 years.

My artwork is a celebration of contemporary life, sending up some serious fun with art, artists and New York City.

The "On the Town" pictures are mainly inspired by the artworks of German artist George Grosz, as well as cartoons, graffiti, clip art, advertising, comics, caricature, journalism, the Internet and memory to portray the changes taking place in various neighborhoods throughout our city.

In "Impressions of Impressionists", I update paintings by recognized Impressionist and Post Impressionist masters such as Pablo Picasso, Pierre-Auguste Renoir and Edouard Manet.
