Tomo Mori Collage Artist WATER CONNECTS THE SEVEN SEAS

Born in Japan, Tomo Mori is a painter and fiber artist living and working in NYC.

She states: I restore my inner balance by an almost ritual-like creative process, praying to heal and reconnect a world that is broken in so many places.

My fabric collage series utilizes mosaic-like techniques using paint and fabric. Hundreds of squares reminiscent of digital pixels compose an aggregate like a living organism.

Tomo Mori's work has been exhibited nationally and internationally. Her passion for public art landed on commissions from the New York Metropolitan Transit Authority, Columbia University and Governors Island. tomomoriart.com
